PICNIC

As of this news letter there is still nothing definite about the picnic in August. There may be some more discussion at July's meeting or through the hot line.

MYSTERY CAMPOUT

I have no information to disclose, it's a total mystery. For inquirers call wagonmasters Lahousse or Sulek.

HARTWIGS CAMPOUT

John and I arrived around 7:00p.m.
Friday night during a torrential rain storm. We were the only ones camping that night. When the rain slowed a little we put our pop-up and tried to have a camp fire, but the rain won out. We ended up in the house to socialize. Saturday morning we went into South Rockwood to hit the garage sales.
We beat the rain then too. When we went back we found Donna there. We then started a fire for the pot luck lunch. After a debate on whether or not we were going canoeing, because of the weather, we decided to go around 6:00p.m..
Dave went with Marci to pick up Michael since we missed him earlier in the day when we were at the garage sales.
Dave and John stayed back at the house. We went on the one hour trip and it was fun, the kids were having fun with water fights. After we stopped for ice cream. When we returned, Fred and Peanut had arrived to spend the night. We started the pot luck dinner out side until the rain started then went in to watch the Red Wing game. Sunday morning we decided to go into town to eat breakfast. when we returned everyone was gone so we packed up and headed for home.
