Bowling Update

Fore !!!!!

Oops wrong sport, I meant to say, yes I got a strike. Even though some of the scores would have been great golf scores the annual Early Risers Bowling outing was lots of fun for all who came.
Participating this year was Al & Marian Reau, Mckenley Tillery, Paul, Diane, Jessica & Nathan
Jones, Tim & Darlene Gregurich, Bobby Brown, Fred, Desiree, Michael & Heather McIntosh, Glenn & Lucille Farmer, Erica Louzon & Mike Lividini, Billy Louzon & Rachael Vai and John & Beth Pilette. There was lots of excitement especially when John forgot to let go of the ball and went over the side. Jessica did not get any strikes but man even that little kid on the other lane got one.
Diane received an AWESOME DUDE award for a 7 - 10 pin split with the help of the good alley fairy, (thanks Al). Beth made the most spiders appear I think she just like watching them appear. Mens high game went to Michael with 150, Diane received it for Women's high game with 130, too bad she was called John that Game. Pizza Hut was great fun for all those who attend. Can't wait to do it again next year.
Respectfully submitted by Diane
Jones

CHESANING CAMPOUT

The Chesaning campout began for the teens when most of the club showed up on Friday. The Setzlers were there before I was, but had gone out to eat and arrived back shortly after I showed up. Chris had brought his girlfriend Christina which made five teens to begin with. We had Don, Annastasiya, Chris, Cristina and myself. About a half hour after this reunion the Jones pulled in with Jessica and Nathan. That night we played cards in the Setzlers trailer. The girl teens made the hike to the " real " bathroom. The next morning the Setzlers hosted my family to breakfast and everyone was out garage sailing by 10:00am. The teens stuck together and my dad was our chaperon. We covered a third of the town by noon. We found ourselves back by the campers so we stopped for lunch.
Before we got to eat Michael and Kristen showed up. Kristen had a friend with her. I'm not sure what her name was. After lunch we went to more garage sales. Kristen and her friend had to leave around four o'clock. That was about the time we came back. Donna purchased water guns and you know what that means to hot teens. The water fight exploded around the campers.
Only one teen made it out semi-dry and that was Don because he hid in the trailer. Later on some of us went for ice cream. After we ate we exercised by playing a little football and soccer. When it was too dark to see we came back to the campers for cards. Sunday was really uneventful. That was the campout from a teens view.
Reminder about the tent city campout at my house; it's on June 12 - 14.

SPRING CAMPOUT

Hi, everyone.

An update on the Twilight Teen.
Our Historian book took second at the State Camp out. (Yes, there was more than two! There were three.) Good job Michael.

I performed in the youth royalty pageant while all the other teens in our chapter played sports. The teens lost to the adults in baseball. In volleyball, Michael, Don and I were on the winning team.

Anastasia, Chris and Jessica put up a good fight on the opposing team. In old business, Chris is still with his girl-friend Christina. (Sorry folks, we don't have much to talk about at our meetings.) That's all for now.
